ANOTHER CENTENNIAL.

THE HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF YORKTOWN.

The Surrender of Lord Cornwallis---Preliminary Preparations for Celebrating the Event.

NORFOLK, September 5.—A large meeting of the citizens of York county was held yesterday at Yorktown for the purpose of adopting preliminary measures looking to a grand national celebration of the coming centennial of the surrender of Cornwallis in 1781. The meeting was presided over by Dr. Robert A. Powers, and addresses were delivered by M. Glennan, Colonel Robert T. Armistead and Judge R. L. Healey.

Preamble and resolutions were adopted looking to due observance of the coming anniversary, recommending to the military and civic societies of the State and the municipal authorities of the cities of the Commonwealth the propriety of participating in the coming celebration, and calling on them to co-operate in initiating the movement on the 19th of October next, that will lead to a grand centennial celebration on the 19th of October, 1881.

The Governor of the State is requested to issue proclamation, recommending to the people the propriety of the movement, and inviting Governors of other States to take such action as may conduce to this object, and participate with the people of Virginia in the same. The Secretary of the Navy is asked to order vessels composing the fleet which is to be reviewed, in Hampton Roads in October, to be present in York River, in front of Yorktown, in order to take part in the celebration, and the Secretary of War that the troops at Fort Monroe be permitted to participate in military demonstration.

It was further resolved that it is recommended that delegates from all the States be appointed to meet in Philadelphia on the coming anniversary, in order to form a national association, the object of which is to bring about a successful celebration of the Centennial. That meeting heartily concurs in the recommendation, and requests the appointment by the Governor of delegates to attend the same.

This case originated in Rowan county, was removed to Iredell, and then from Iredell to Mecklenburg. The State was represented by Solicitor Montgomery and Captain Charles Price, of Salisbury. Messrs. Shipp & Bailey, of this city, and Messrs. J. W. Mauney and J. M. Gray, of Salisbury, appeared for Pethel. Four days were consumed in examining witnesses and in hearing arguments of counsel, which were concluded on Wednesday evening, and the case given into the hands of the jury about 10 o'clock on Wednesday night, with instructions to report on Thursday morning if they could agree. The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

ALBION W. TOURGEE.

SOUTHERN PERSECUTIONS AND HOSTILITY TO THE NORTH.

Results of Fourteen Years' Experience in North Carolina---The South Determined to Rule.

New York Tribune, 3d.

The Hon. Albion W. Tourgee, of North Carolina, has been in the city for a few days past. Judge Tourgee was formerly an Ohio man, an abolitionist, and an officer in the Union Army. At the close of the war he went to North Carolina on account of his health, to settle permanently, taking his family. After fourteen years' experience, during which he has been prominent in politics in business, a Judge of the Superior Court of the State and an active practising lawyer of Raleigh, and has contributed several widely known volumes to the law literature of the State, enjoying all the while as much of the confidence of his neighbors and co-workers as any Northern man can expect, he has determined to leave the South, because he finds it impossible for a Northern man of independence of mind to live there with comfort. A Tribune reporter called upon him to get some statement of the difficulties of such a position as he has occupied. Mr. Tourgee talked freely on the subject, the following being the substance of his remarks:

"These difficulties are very hard to explain to one who does not understand them. They arise from the inherent differences of character between the two sections, upon which political differences are based. A newspaper correspondent is disbelieved because he is supposed to be unable, during a brief visit, to get at the facts; and a Northern man residing South is regarded as a liar by virtue of being a 'carpet-bagger,' all of whom are considered to be rascals and haters of the South. The Southern man is by habit and training intolerant. Excluded by slavery from the rest of the world, he learned to regard all who differed with him on any topic as necessarily inimical. Evidences of good will, sympathy, identity of interest, are all disregarded as soon as the outsider expresses a difference of opinion. He at once becomes the object of the hostility which was formerly visited upon the abolitionist, and which is now transferred to all who represent to them the idea of the North. He is not 'bull-dozed' at present; that is, he is not in danger of life or limb in the daily pursuit of his business. At the same time he is distinguished against as a Northern man in a manner which quite as effectually prevents his taking root and feeling that he has a home. No matter what his exertions, position or sentiments, he remains an alien in the regard of those by whom he is surrounded. He may overcome individual enmities and win individual friends, but the collective sentiment of the community is against him. What he gets he must win against the greatest odds. Every presumption is made against him."

In reply to other questions Judge Tourgee stated that a Northern man in any business meets the prejudice and is obliged to carry weight. Every Northern man represents the Southern man the historical foe whom he honestly believes to come with some sinister motive against the South.

RESPONSIBILITY OF THE NORTH.

"Do you then hold the North responsible for this sentiment?"

"I hold the North' responsible for not recognizing it as an element that must enter into all its dealings with the South. It is there, and must be allowed for. Instead, the North, at the close of the war, assumed that the South was what the North would have been under similar circumstances, and blundered into a scheme of reconstruction from which they expected the settlement of the differences between the whites and the blacks, and after that, a reconciliation and era of good feeling between North and South. They did not kuow that the training and character of all Southerners made it impossible either that they should ever regard the negro as a political element, enemy or ally, or the North as anything but hostile forever; and I blame them for not knowing, and I blame myself for not knowing.

"So far as this is a serious National difficulty, how would you have it met?"

"I cannot say. The result of the policy for the past fourteen years, which ignored the sentiment I speak of and hoped for a change of feeling more miraculous than the orthodox change of heart, has been to make the South more united, more anti-Northern, more determined to dictate in the Government, more powerful to do so than ever. Southern whites control the former slave population, not by means of its vote, but by finding means to prement its voting or to prevent its votes being counted; they have gained in representative power, and they aim, with certainty of success, I believe, at the control of the Government. Years ago they seceded to preserve slavery. Now they no longer wish to dissolve, but to rule. The whole is better than the part, and they mean to have the whole, and will either drive the North into rebellion or force violent measures to prevent their ascendancy. In all except the actual result of the physical struggle, I consider the South to have been the real victors in the war. I am filled with admiration and amazement at the masterly way in which they have brought about these results. The way in which they have neutralized the results of the war and reversed the verdict of Appomattox is the grandest thing in American politics."

"Do you not feel called on to remain at the South and assert yourself?"

"No. I have never shrunk from plain language, the assertion of my own ideas, or the advocacy of Republican principles on the stump. I have 'asserted' myself for fourteen years, under circumstances that few men would care to face a second time. I have had the 'ku-klux' on my track more than once and calumniators at my heels all the time. I have conquered every tittle of consideration I have received; but neither I nor any other Northern man can conquer the ingrained hostility to one who does not in all things accord with the ideas which they have inherited from their past. I thought this would die out at first; that I could live down the fact of alien nativity. But I was mistaken, and latterly I have pretty much lost the desire to do so. At first, the conflict betwen the two classes of ideas had no little interest. The Northern man felt that the idea—the civilization of the North, for which he had fought and in which he was nurtured—was true, and he had a positive pleasure in supporting and maintaining it as against a hostile, and, as he believed, dwarfed and detective development. When, however, the North joined in heaping infamy upon him, because he happened to have been born in her borders, he soon lost the missionary spirit. I have 'asserted' myself until I am sufficiently amused. Now I want some of the men who have been so ready to swear at and abuse Southern Republicans, to go there and assert themselves awhile."

He closes by stating that the South would prefer Bayard to Tilden, but that the latter must be nominated, and that the Democrats will carry every Southern State. That North Carolina was carried by fraud in 1876, and that the belief that the Admistration has betrayed the Republicans is "almost universal. You know there everything is counted from the 'surrender,' especially among the colored people. Not long ago I heard a colored man narrating some events fix the time to his hearers by saying 'jist arter Mr. Hayes's surrender'!"

LATE WASHINGTON NEWS.

Talk on the Saratoga Convention—Preparing for the Census.

Baltimore Sun, 5th.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4—The New York Republicans here say that the ticket placed in nomination by the New York Republican convention yesterday is weak from the head down. Cornell, the candidate for Governor, they say, has not one element of strength, except that he is the regular nominee, and that is a good deal with political parties. Hoskins, the candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, was a member of Congress for two terms, and when he ran for a third term he waf badly beaten, although his was one os the strongest republican districts in the State. Hamilton Ward, the candidate for attorney-general, was in Congress for two terms, but while there never gave the slightest evidence of possessing more than ordinary ability. The whole ticket, they say, is made up of what is known as machine politicians, and they cannot comprehend how it can be successful, unless the Democracy place in the field a ticket equally as commonplace.

TAKING THE CENSUS.

Among the first nominations that will be sent to the Senate by the President on the assembling of Congress in December will be the one hundred and fifty supervisors of the census, authorized by a law of last Congress. These supervisors are to be selected by the superintendent of the census, Mr. Walker, and are to have charge of the one hundred and fifty districts into which the country is to be divided. New York will have eleven districts, Pennsylvania and Ohio ten, Illinois eight, and so on down, each State being divided into so many districts, according to her population by the last census. Maryland will have two, and probably three.

Superintendent Walker is now at work in making the districts, and is in communication with Governors of States, Congressmen and Mayors of cities, with a view of obtaining information. As soon as the districts are determined on the selection of supervisors will begin. This will be a work of great importance, as the duties, to be performed properly, will require men of not only executive ability, but who have general information, personal acquaintance with the manufactures and productions of their section, and familiarity with statistics. An effort will be made to have all the supervisors experts in the business expected of them.

THE TRADE OF RALEIGH.

OPINIONS OF THE LEADING GROCERS IN THE CITY.

Prospects for the Fall Trade---Reasons why the Raleigh Grocers can Wholesale Goods to the Country.

The NEWS yesterday published the first of a series of articles, containing the statements of the leading merchants of this city, on the state of trade; what they have been doing the present year, and what the prospects are for the fall trade this season. To-day's article is devoted to the heavy grocery trade which will be continued in to-morrow's issue.

Our friends whose names have not yet appeared in these articles need not feel uneasy; they shall have a "hearing" before the series are concluded.

The attention of our country and village merchant subscribers is especially called to these statements. They are facts. Read and ponder:

W. H. DODD, WHOLESALE GROCER, FORAGE AND GRAIN DEALER AND COMMISSION MERCHANT, DODD'S CORNER, WILMINGTON AND MARTIN STREETS.

"My line of trade has been better this spring and summer than usual comcomparing it with the same months of previous years; especially has there been an increased demand for grain and hay. There are perceptible signs of fall trade already, and we expect, in consequence of the big cotton crop, the largest fall trade this season for a number of years. I can sell goods to North Carolina customers generally, cheaper than either Norfolk, Richmond or Baltimore—certainly as cheap. Merchants doing business east or south of Raleigh can get goods in my line even cheaper in Raleigh than they can North. For this reason; we get through freights by the car load and our freightage is necessarily cheaper than the retail merchant, buying an ordinary stock, and paying full freight rates; and the only difference in my prices and that of Baltimore houses is simply the through freight rates, which virtually makes my goods cheaper to North Carolina customers. If our merchants will only give Raleigh a trial this fall, I'll warrant they won't travel all the way North for their goods again." Mr. Dodd's establishment is a large one and he deservedly enjoys a splendid trade.

W. C. & A. B. STRONACH—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCERS, NO. 1 FAYETTEVILLE ST., AND EXCHANGE PLACE.

The reporter found the junior partner at the wholesale house, and things wearing a busy look with this prosperous firm.

"Well, sir," said Mr. A. B. S., "our run of custom this spring and summer has been better than it was the same month last year; our up-town retail store about held its own this summer, but we would have done a much larger business in the retail branch had not so many of the Raleigh people spent their summer at the Springs. I think there were more Raleigh people absent at summer resorts this year than ever before. This house (wholesale) has done a good business, and we soon manage to convince our customers that it is to their interest to buy of us instead of going North; we offer advantages to North Carolina customers that they don't have with Northern houses; sell goods as cheap as any country merchant can get them delivered here We expect an unusually good fall trade."

This is a reliable firm and do the right thing with all their customers.

J. J. THOMAS, COMMISSION MERCHANT AND COTTON SELLER, WILMINGTON STREET.

Mr. Thomas said: "Business the past spring and summer greatly exceeded that of last year and when the depreciation in values is taken into consideration, his business was an hundred per cent. better than last season. There seems to be a determination on the part of the farmers to meet their accounts. This fall the general outlook for fall and winter trade is good (a fact to be attributed to the very low prices for which goods are sold here), and as the prices obtained here for cotton so closely approximate those of New York and the other Northern markets, being within three-fourths of a cent of the first named place, and as the charges to this market are so much less than can be had anywhere else, it is not a matter of surprise that producers and dealers should ship to this point, and buy their goods from our merchants. Captain T. looks for a decided increase in receipts here the coming season, and thinks high prices will be maintained, not only for cotton, but for all kinds of country produce. He thinks we are on the eve of a more prosperous time for farmers and merchants alike. Captain Thomas seemed in excellent health and spirits; he is a first class business man in every respect, and an honor to the mercantile profession. He always deals fairly with his customers.

M. T. LEACH & CO., WHOLESALE GROCERS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS, WILMINGTON ST.

"I am glad to see the NEWS taking hold of this matter," said the junior partner of this popular firm; "and think its influence will be felt through an increased trade this fall." His spring trade this year had increased 33½ per cent over that of last year, and his summer custom had been good. "The fall trade is commencing," said he, "and there is every indication of a good trade this season."

All staple goods in his line, as cheap at this house as any Norfolk or Baltimore firm can deliver them here, and in some instances cheaper. This is owing to through freights, etc. This is one of the most reliable firms in Raleigh, and they deservedly enjoy a good run of custom.

E. J. HARDIN—WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCER, FAYETTEVILLE ST.

"My spring and summer trade," said Mr. H., "has been encouraging; better than same seasons last year. I don't think the fall trade has yet begun; the prospects are good, judging from the general temper of the people, and good crops with the farmers. Can sell goods as cheap as any house, and it is a mistake that the village and country merchants make in going to Northern cities to purchase their stocks. A great advantage they would have by dealing with Raleigh merchants, is the privilege of having all errors corrected, and if they would only try Raleigh one season, I think they would find it greatly to their interest to patronize home institutions, etc."

Mr. Hardin is a capital business man and will treat you right. He sells as low as the lowest.

M. T. NORRIS & CO., WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCERS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS, NO. 3 EXCHANGE PLACE AND 5 MARTIN ST.

"Trade this spring was very good; the summer months good also. Just now it is rather dull; always is about the first two weeks in September. The prospects for a good fall trade are very bright; good crops generally and farmers generally in a better condition than for several years past. We can sell goods to North Carolina customers as cheap as any house doing business either in Norfolk, Richmond or Baltimore, and when you take the cost of transportation into consideration, goods can be bought cheaper here than in either of those places." This house does a splendid business; they are capital men to trade with and have the confidence of all with whom they have dealings.

M. GRAUSMAN, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCER, 29 FAYETTEVILLE STREET.

"My spring trade this year," said Mr. G., "was about as good as it usually is; the summer months held their own, as compared with the same season last year. Business is beginning to pick up and there are perceptable signs of a reviving trade. We expect a good fall trade. We can sell goods, either in small lots or by the wholesale, to North Carolina customers, as cheap as any house in Norfolk or Baltimore can deliver them here. We sell at close figures." His salesmen are kept quite busy, and Mr. M. seemed to be in good spirits. This is a number one house.

POOL & MORING, WOLESALE GROCERS AND COTTON FACTORS, WILMINGTON STREET.

"The spring trade with us this year," said Mr. M., "was better than usual; summer months would compare with same season last year." Trade, he thought, was beginning to revive, but the general run of custom, this fall, would be a little later than usual, on account of the backward tendency of crops. He expected a good fall trade, but did not imagine it would far exceed that of former years; anticipated a good trade, however. He said a merchant buying from $300 to a $1,000 stock could do much better in Raleigh than in Northern cities; if he buys here he examines his goods, and does not overstock himself, as many are likely to do in purchasing North, and consequently runs no risk in having a lot of damaged goods sent him. This house does a good business and will sell as low as the lowest.

LATTA & MYATT, WHOLESALE GROCERS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS, EXCHANGE PLACE AND MARKET.

Mr. Latta thought the spring and summer trade this year was a little better than usual; did not see any signs of the fall trade having yet begun, but anticipated a fine trade this season. Can deliver goods to North Carolina customers as cheap as Norfolk, Richmond or Baltimore houses. These gentlemen are thorough business men and carry a large stock. They are popular, polite and experienced, and will treat you right.

RAND & BARBEE BROTHERS, WHOLESALE GROCERS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS, WILMINGTON ST.

The reporter was struck with the business appearance of this house. It is a capital firm and is known throughout Central Carolina. The spring trade with them had been better than they had ever before met with; the summer months were averagely good and they thought business was beginning to pick up already. They expect a fine fall trade. Crops, so far as they were aware, were better this year than for some time, and farmers generally in better condition and spirits than for a number of years.

They can and do sell goods in their line as cheap as any Norfolk or Baltimore house can to North Carolina customers, and think it a great mistake for a merchant, purchasing less than a $5,000 stock, living within a radius of 100 miles of Raleigh, to go North for their goods. All they ask of any of them, in order to be convinced, is a trial.

Rand and Barbee Bros. is one of our institutions.

CHRISTOPHERS & SORRELL, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCERS, WILMINGTON STREET.

Mr. Christophers thought the spring and summer months' trade for this year would compare favorably with the same seasons last year; that business had begun to show signs of an increasing demand and that the prospects for a good fall trade this season were unusually fine. They will sell goods as cheap as any Norfolk or Baltimore house can deliver them here, and thinks it is greatly advantageous to North Carolina merchants to patronize Raleigh in buying their goods. This firm has very recently moved into the large and commodious store now occupied by them; their increasing business demanding a large house. They are clever gentlemen and good business men.

SILVER PURCHASES.

The Amount of Bullion in the Treasury and its Disposition.

Washington Post, 4th.

A great deal of reticence is observed by the Treasury officials in regard to the silver purchases; the names of the parties offering, the amount offered and purchased, as well as the amount accepted from each bidder and the price paid, are studiously withheld from the public. According to the statement of assets and liabilities of the Treasury of the United States on the 1st instant, the amount of silver bullion held by the Treasury was $4,904,611.89 or about 4,214,900 standard ounces, to which add 670,000 ounces purchased last week. As it is probable that no part of the same had been delivered at the time the treasurer made up his statement, sellers of silver being allowed from ten to fifteen days in which to make their delivery, and it is safe to state that the amount of silver bullion held by the Treasury to-day approximates 4,880,000 standard ounces. On inquiring it is learned that all the silver bullion included in the Treasurer's statement of assets is in the mints and the assay office at New York. San Francisco papers of the latest date received, state that there is an active demand in that city for silver for shipment to China, and that the price is from three-fourths to one cent an ounce higher than in London, hence the probabilities are that the greater part of the silver purchased Wednesday (310,000 ounces), was for delivery at Philadelphia, as the Treasury holds the London price to be the market rate, and will not pay above it.

The First Strike.

Murfreesboro Enquirer.

The first organized strike that probably ever took place in Hertford county, took place among the hands at the saw-mill of Messrs. Wemple & Midyett, of this place on Tuesday last. The hands employed have been receiving thirteen dollars per month. This they concluded was not enough, hence held a meeting and decided to strike for an increase. At this writing, the agent, W. T. Britton, is in search for a new lot of hands, and says they will be given no more, since that is all they can earn, and he can get plenty more who are willing to take their places at those rates.

The increasing demand daily, in this country and all parts of the world, Europe, Asia, Africa and South America, will compel W. T. Blackwell & Co. to extend their vast establishment to double the extent, both as to buildings and machinery. The Bull is going ahead.

MARK TWAIN'S RETURN.

A WONDERFUL BOOK IN HIS LUGGAGE.

The Solemn Truth about Mr. Murat Halstead's Courageous Venture Across the Atlantic Ocean.

New York World, 3d.

On the eleventh day of April, 1873, Mr. Mark Twain, of nowhere in particular—sometimes, though seldom, known as Mr. Samuel L. Clemens, of Hartford, Conn.—set out for Europe on the steamer Holsatia. The following day he did the same thing over again, the steamship, for reasons which were explained at the time, having been obliged to come back and take a fresh start. Yesterday Mr. Twain returned. He was one of the passengers on the Gallia.

"There," said he, as the ship left quarantine and began her journey up the bay, "the danger is finally passed."

"To what danger do you refer, Mr. Twain?" asked a reporter of the World, who had been trying for ten minutes without success to lift the great humorist from a deep and silent melancholy.

"Why, you see," replied the returning wanderer, who voice has lost none of its querulous plaintiveness by dealing with foreign tongues, "I haven't been at all certain but what we have to go back and begin this voyage all over again. I said to my friend Mrs. Clemens the other day, 'If they had to try twice to get us started, what reason have we to hope that they won't find it necessary to try several times before they are able to get us back?' It's one of the peculiarities of sea life that, given the same circumstances, you always look for the same results. When the ship begins to roll sideways and kick up behind at the same time, I always know that I am expected to perform a certain duty. I learned it years ago on the Quaker City. You might suppose that I would have forgotten my part after so long a residence on shore. But there it is again. It's habit; everything connected with the sea comes down to a matter of habit. You might confine me for forty years in a Rhode Island corn patch, and at the end of that time I'd know just as well what to do when a ship begins to kick up as I do at this moment. The darkest night never confuses me in the least. It's a little singular when you look at it, ain't it? But I presume it's attributable to the solemn steadfastness of the great deep."

"You sailed in the same ship with Bayard Taylor and Mr. Murat Halstead, of Cincinnati, did you not, Mr. Twain?"

"The same craft, all honor to her (Mr. Twain lifted his hat reverently), carried all three of us."

"It was said at the time that you inveigled Mr. Halstead into making the voyage by promising him free use of your linen?"

"Well"—Mr. Twain spoke leisurely—"I did tell Murat that I'd lend him a clean shirt. You see, he didn't expect to go. His wife was going and he'd sort of came down to see her safely launched. You remember the ship ran away with a party of excursionists who had got aboard to bid poor Mr. Taylor good by and was obliged to anchor off the Hook all night. During the evening Murat sort of got his sealegs on and says he, 'Clemens' (he always calls me Clemens), says he, 'Clemens, if you'll lend me a shirt I believe I'll go across.' 'All right,' says I, 'I'll do it.' So Murat he fixed things with the captain and stayed aboard. We got along pretty well with winds a middling, about nor-norwest by sou, till we came to latitude 36, longitude 49½, and then Murat wanted his clean shirt—that is, he wanted mine. It was about three bells from noon when I took that garment to the door of Murat's state-room. 'Here,' says I, 'clothe yourself like a prince of the realm.' At eight bells Mr. Halstead came out of his apartment with his coat buttoned up to his chin and his face as red as a red, red rose. He wore his coat buttoned up to his chin all the rest of the voyage, and I never so much as got a glimpse of my shirt. There was a kind of rumor on the ship that Murat never wore that shirt or any other shirt. I don't know how true it was, but when I come to study the thing it did look to me as if I'd put a rather tough problem to the editor of the Cincinnati Commercial, for his neck measures eighteen inches, while mine never footed up more than fifteen, even when I had the mumps."

"Did you see anything of Mr. Taylor after you landed?"

"No, I'm very sorry now, but I was prevented by one thing and another from calling upon him."

"You have written a book since you left America, I believe?"

"Yes, I've sort of put some words together."

"What do you call it?"

"Well, I don't know what I shall call it. I've turned over a good many names in my mind, but none of 'em seem to hit her exactly. You see, she aint a novel; if she was I'd call her 'Lucy, or the Crescent Cross,' or 'If He Shouldn't Come, What Then?' or some such suggestive title, but the trouble is she aint a novel."

"What is the nature of the book?"

"It is a work somewhat after the style of the—the—the—what do you call it?—the Bible. That is, it is devoted to the history of the travels of a single family. It also resembles Webster's Dictionary and Johnson's Encyclopedia. You can read any part or all the parts independent of the other parts and be vicariously instructed, open the book where you will. In short she is to be a corker, when she is bound."

Pedestrian Match.

Wilmington Review, 4th.

There have been several attempts made by enterprising colored men in this city to get up a pedestrian match, but so far all efforts have proved to be fruitless. A match is announced to take place on Monday evening next; the prizes offered are to be two large cakes. The projectors seem to be farseeing men and the pedestrian match will no doubt be a success, because if anything will make a "culled brudder" walk it is "de provishuns."

Words to the Point.

Buffalo Express (Rep.).

General J. B. Hood and his wife being dead, eleven little children are orphans. The general fought on the wrong side, but he was a brave soldier. If the generous North should see to it that those orphans are cared for it would win as great and noble a victory as any of the late war.

Horace Greeley and Whitelaw Reid.

Chicago Tribune (Rep.).

"An inquiring friend" wishes to be informed why so many bitter things are said about Whitelaw Reid in the newspapers. The reason is that Mr. Reid is thought to have humiliated Horace Greeley in his old age, and the name of the founder of the New York Tribune is revered by true journalists.

DAILY NEWS

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1879.

JOHN Sherman has allowed himself to be driven from the stump by a series of artfully prepared questions. Either he was very fastidious, or the questions were very hard.

ATTENTION is directed to the Tribune interview with Judge Tourgee, which appears on the first page of this issue. To-morrow we shall pay further attention to the Judge's statements.

SEVERAL large warehouses have laid idle for some weeks. With some incentive to bring farmers from beyond the immediate vicinage, to dispose of their products and get their supplies, they would not long remain unoccupied.

THE Wallingford community has followed the example of the Oneida community in abandoning the practice of "complex marriages," that is to say, the system of free love. Now the Utah community alone remains to be heard from.

LET Raleigh be made a center for the wholesale trade of the State; let tobacco houses be established to bring in the tobacco farmers that now go elsewhere to dispose of their product; let business generally be started and advertised abroad, and we will hear less of high taxes and inability to pay them.

WITH a commanding location, a handsomely laid out city, it seems strange to see our prominent business streets disfigured by buildings erected so long ago that the time has been forgotten. It does not pay at present to put up new ones; but start the business ball and they would soon givd place to others that would prove a profitable investment for the owners.

THE Atlanta Constitution fund for the children of the late General John B. Hood is growing rapidly, and the contagion has spread to other States. The case has met with the kindliest regard in the North, and we have not the least hesitancy in saying that many of those who served in the Federal army will contribute to the worthy object. Propositions looking to an increase of the fund have already been made in this State and received with favor.

ANOTHER case of repudiation for the Tribune, only it happens to be a New York man this time. Opposition is made to the composition of 10 cents on the dollar offered to his creditors by Police Commissioner Wheeler now doing business at Saratoga, a skeptical creditor alleging that "Mr. Wheeler has property which which will realize from 40 to 50 per cent." Here is a chance for a series of statistical tables showing how much he owed before the war and how Democratic rule ruined him.

IT would seem as if the Republican papers who have been insisting that Mr. Cornell's nomination would end in the defeat and destruction of the party in this State, had better get up an appetite for "crow" without any unnecessary delay.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Some of the gentlemen that edit the papers above referred to are of the class that prefer independence to stultification. Consequently in the market the quotations of "crow" will run very low indeed.

KING CARNIVAL, with his attendant ratin, will make his triumphant entry into Atlanta on the 24th proximo, and has issued his royal edict for preparations therefor. In the closing section he says:

"We congratulate our loyal subjects throughout the State upon the abundant crops which have rewarded the labors of the husbandman, and the many signs of returning good fortune, and trust that these evidences of better days, now so happily existing, may continue and grow stronger with years, increasing the prosperity, wealth and power of those whom we love so well, enabling them to celebrate, with more eclat, and more heartily enjoy, our annual visit to their beautiful city."

NORTHERN ice is delivered in Salisbury at one cent a pound. Wish it was thus here.—Winston Sentinel.

Another enterprise for some wide-awake business man to engage in. There is no earthly reason why good, pure Northern ice should not be sold at from one to one and one-fourth cents a pound in Raleigh at a reasonable profit. Ice is harvested along the Hudson from sixty to one hundred and thirty miles above New York city, housed and stored till summer, then shipped on barges for the city and sold to customers in small quantities, say from five to twenty pounds, delivered, at half a cent a pound. There is money in this ice business for some one.

SOME few months since a special mail agent was dispatched from Washington to investigate some alleged "crookedness" of an Alabama postmaster, the particulars of which have escaped our memory. Suffice it to say the tables were turned and the agent was arrested for false arrest or a breach of the peace, tried and convicted; a fine was exacted and he was allowed to depart. Thereupon Postmaster General Key withdrew all mail facilities from the offending village by abolishing the postoffice. Now, in view of the arrest and conviction of Deputy Marshal Martin in the Leopold case (an account of which will be found in our local columns), and in order to follow up the precedent established by the Postoffice Department, would it not be well for the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to suspend operations in the Fourth Collection District of North Carolina?

THE SCHOOL BILL.

Our article that appeared in the issue of the 27th ultimo has awakened the wrath of several of our State contemporaries, notably the Durham Recorder. Now with all due deference to the older head of the editor of that paper, we must beg to differ with him. We did not go out of our way to charge Messrs. Robinson and Moring "with a deliberate purpose to frustrate the will of the people;" we stated the facts as they stood, that they had shown a neglect of their decided duty in allowing this bill to go beyond the adjournment of the legislature without attaching their signatures, thus thwarting (as the court decides) the will of the people of the State as expressed through their representatives.

This bill, to the people at large, was one of the most important that came before the General Assembly. Great care had been expended on its provisions. There may have been imperfections in it as a whole, but it received the general approval of the Assembly by its passage. It was a most beneficent measure for the body politic, inasmuch as it was designed to place the State in point of education on a footing with her neighbors.

We did not nor do not charge criminality as attaching to the Speakers, but we do say that it was certainly a piece of gross neglect on the part of these gentlemen to pass this bill by and append their signatures to bills of questionable benefit to the public at large.

In penning the article alluded to neither "personal malice or personal ambition" was thought of. The NEWS is above any such petty display of temper. We but spoke the feeling of community. And on this ground the NEWS proposes to stand. This journal is supported by the people, and a like support will be rendered, to the best of our ability, in return. We hold to our old-time political faith; we have seen no reason for changing our creed; and yet the Recorder charges us with "stabbing the party to death privily." The school bill was in no wise a political question nor a cardinal principle of any particular party creed. It was a measure for the general good, and in its nature outside of party lines. It received the warm support of the best men of both parties, and the best men of both parties regret its failure to become a law.

The Recorder would seem to convey the impression that the statement we made would injure the party, inasmuch as the gentlemen we were chiding are both Democrats; but it should remember that if the party is injured through this matter, it is by the non-action of two of its trusted members. We hold to the opinion that the party will not be injured in the least; that the people will not hold it responsible for the neglect or accidental omission, call it what you will, of two of its members, especially as the records show that the party gave the bill its warm support.

And another thing: we do not choose to be taken to task like a schoolboy every time we deem it necessary and right to rise above the plane of party on a measure concerning the public welfare, and certainly not when the question involved is not a political measure. A journal that is hampered by such ties would never reach beyond a certain limit, and its influence might be represented by the sign minus.

WILL YOU BRING SOMETHING TO THE FAIR?

The Secretary of the State Fair asks us to publish some points in regard to the entry of articles, and the mode of awarding premiums at the State Fair, may be useful to our readers.

In the first place we would suggest that you write to the Secretary, tell him what you have to exhibit, and if necessary what space it will occupy. Should you exhibit an animal, state the name, age, sex and breed, and if in the department of thoroughbred horses, refer to pedigree. If you are in doubt upon any point, send for Premium List, which will be promptly forwarded and the regulations in full will be found there. Should you send any sample of field crops, examine the regulations and file your statement of the cultivation, amount, etc. If you wish to compete for premium on the quantity produced, in all cases if the same article is to compete for several premiums you should mention that fact.

There is no entry fee for articles exhibited by ladies, unless when manufactured for sale as a business.

The entry fee to other exhibitors is three dollars, which entitles the person entering to compete in as many departments as he pleases, and with as many different items. He also receives an exhibitor's ticket of admission for every day of the Fair week, reducing the fee to nothing after all.

There will be every accommodation offered to friends from the country bringing their wagons, to camp within the grounds, while order will be strictly enforced. All the employees will have orders to extend every possible courtesy to visitors.

The farmers, the stock raisers, the mechanics, men of industry and enterprise throughout the State, have now the opportunity to come forward with a grand display of native resources and skill, that must tend to great good in the present and future. If any man stays away it is nobody's fault but his. He is heartily welcome; comfortable buildings and spacious grounds have been prepared for his entertainment, liberal premiums offered, a careful and experienced corps of supervisors, appointed, and an executive committee in charge composed of citizens whose deepest interest is the welfare of the people of whom they are a part, and with whom they expect to suffer adversity or enjoy the prosperity that faithful effort will bring.

POLITICAL NOTES.

It is said ex-Secretary Bristow favors Senator Blaine for the Presidency.

Three of the Democratic nominees for judges in California are natives of South Carolina.

General W. T. Walthall has withdrawn from the contest for the United States Senatorship in Mississippi.

The Democratic convention of Carbon county, Pennsylvania, on Monday declared in favor of the renomination of Mr. Tilden for the presidency.

The State Senators in New Jersey this fall will be the object of the warmer political contests, as they all have a vote for United States Senators in 1881.

Hon. Alexander H. Stephens is credited with having expressed a preference for General Hancock as the next Democratic candidate for the Presidency.

The Democratic State Central Committee of Massachusetts have refused to hold a joint convention with the Butler independents, whom, they say, they cannot recognize as Democrats. Edward Palmer will preside at the Butler convention.

At the Democratic Convention in Berks county, Pennsylvania, Tuesday, a resolution indorsing Tilden and Hendricks as the choice of the Democrats of Berks county for the next President and Vice-President, was tabled.

The Independent Movement in Mississippi.

Washington Evening Star

The Democrats are preparing for an active campaign in Mississippi this fall, and all their big guns will be brought to the front. Senator Lamar will make a number of speeches and prominent party leaders from other States have been urged to lend a helping hand. The rapid growth of the independent movement in Mississippi admonishes the Democratic leaders that they must be up and doing in order to hold the State. The opposition to Democracy is now led by native white men, many of whom served in the rebel army. They are men of influence and have the courage to maintain their convictions, therefore the shotgun method cannot be employed against them. The independents are already upon the stump and the Democrats are forced to meet them in open discussion. One of the most prominent of the independent leaders is General Stephen D. Lee, who won distinction as a Confederate cavalry leader and reached the rank of Major General. He is known as a fighter and cannot be bulldozed. He is at present a State Senator, having defeated the regular Democratic nominee, and this year the independent organization in his district is much stronger than it was at the last election. The Zazoo outrage has reacted upon the party that perpetrated it, and instead of weakening the opposition has added to its strength. It is natural that the property-owners of the State should desire peace and order. They have something at stake, and it is largely this cless who are giving life and power to the independent movement. This division of the white people of Mississippi, however, is confined to local issues. On the national questions the independents will remain Democrats, and will, with comparatively few exceptions, vote that ticket straight. The contestis for a better State government than the Democrats have given them; for an enforcement of the laws so that free thought and free speech may be assured to all, and thus invite immigration and the investment of Northern capital within the State. None of the old leaders of the Republican party figure in the new movement. Some of the most prominent and active in the cause are men who were but recentlp workers in the Democratic cause, and this it is that alarms the managers of the Democratic party,

How to Start an Exodus.

A Louisiana correspondent of the Springfield Republican, says the colored people think that Secretary Stanton, whom they yet believe to be alive, has given orders for their removal to the promised land (Kansas) and if they do not obey he is going to let the Mexicans and Indians loose upon them to kill them.

The Best Evidence.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. Best, Pastor of M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians; also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, as there is no doubt about the curative powers of Vegetine.

NATICK, MASS., Jan. 1, 1874.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir, We have good reason for regarding your Vegetine a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from necrosis of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying; two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him, as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him Vegetine, and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed his studies, thrown away his crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.

Though there is still some discharge from the opening where the limb was lanced, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has taken about three dozen bottles of Vegetine, but lately uses but little, as he declares that he is too well to be taking medicine.

Respectfully yours,
E. S. BEST.
MRS. L. C. F. BEST.

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side, sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros. of Pittsburgh, Pa., for market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

Some Statistics.

Wilmington Review, 4th.

Inasmuch as Charleston, Savannah and Mobile are all claiming to be markets for the sale of naval stores, we give below the receipts of turpentine at the different ports above mentioned, as taken from their last yearly reports published, to show the difference in the receipts of these naval ports, separately or collectively, as compared with the port of Wilmington:

Receipts of spirits turpentine at Mobile as per last yearly report published (casks);	21,118
Receipts of spirits turpentine at Savannah as per last yearly report published (casks),	34,368
Receipts of spirits turpentine at Charleston as per last yearly report published (casks),	53,870
Total (casks),	109,356
Receipts of spirits turpentine at Wilmington as per last yearly report (casks),	109,574

Difference in favor of Wilmington 218 casks over the sum total received at the three ports of Mobile, Savannah and Charleston combined.

More Backbone Urged.

Washington Post.

The implacable enemies of Fitz John Porter have begun thus early to stiffen the executive spine for a veto of a bill reinstating that officer in his former rank. There is not one of these men who dares whisper a word against any member of the board who examined this case, last summer, and recommended the annulment of the original sentence. And yet, a rejection of their report will be equivalent to the gravest charges against their capacity and honesty. There are no better officers in the army and no better men in any department of the public service than the distinguished officers who constituted that board. Their investigation was long, patient, thorough, and exhaustive. They sought, and obtained, information from all available sources. Their report is a complete vindication of Porter. To set that report aside will be to brand them as knaves or fools, and quite unfit for any position.

An Acrobatic Feat.

Brooklyn Eagle.

Cyrus W. Field has accomplished the difficult acrobatic feat of sitting down upon himself.

They walked out of the theater arm in arm. She was as dainty as a princess and prettier than an opening flower. The long, soft, white feather hung gracefully to her shoulder, and her long, delicate, slender hand held a sumptuous fan. He looked pretty spoony himself, but he felt good. "How did you like the opera, pet?" he faintly inquired, and the delicious little angel looked up into his face, and while the gasbeams lighted up the bit of court plaster on her chin, replied: "Its the boss!"

Be wise and happy.

If you will stop all your extravagant and wrong notions in doctoring yourself and families with expensive doctors or humbug cure-alls, that do harm always, and use only nature's simple remedies for all your ailments—you will be wise, well and happy, and save great expense. The greatest remedy for this, the great, wise and good will tell you, is Hop Bitters—rely on it. See another column.

Sweet Odors.

Almost every flower that possesses a desirable odor is used in the Unique Perfumes made by Dr. Price. It is from these rich blossoms that Dr. Price's Perfumes obtain their peculiar sweetness and floral character. His Floral Riches, Pet Rose, Lily of the Valley and Evening Violet are the fashionable odors.

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Have speedily and permanently cured Humors of the Skin and Scalp of Children and Infants afflicted since birth.

The treatment prescribed in such cases is mild doses of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a perfectly safe yet powerful blood purifier, and the external use of CUTICURA, the great skin cure. The CUTICURA SOAP should be the only soap applied to the diseased skin for cleansing purposes.

Humor on a Child

Since Birth Cured, after faithful Medical Treatment had failed.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen, My little son, two years of age, has had a humor on one side of his face since he was born, which during the last four months has spread over the entire side of the face, the child ear, and side of the head. It must have itched and irritated him a great deal, as he scratched the surface all the time, no matter what was applied. I used many remedies by advice of friends and my physician without benefit until I found CUTICURA, which immediately allayed the itching and inflammation, and entirely cured him. Respectfully, JOHN L. SURRY,
With Wadsworth Manufacturing Co.
BOSTON, April 15, 1878.

NOTE. Once cured, the skin may be rendered soft and fair by using the Cuticura Soap exclusively for toilet or nursery purposes.

CHILDREN AND INFANTS.

More Cures of Skin and Scalp Affections by the Cuticura Remedies.

C. Fred. Rohrer, Esq., Cashier Stock Growers' National Bank, Pueblo, Colorado, writes: "I am so well pleased with its effects on my baby, that I cannot afford to be without it in my house. It is a wonderful cure, and is bound to become very popular as soon as its virtues are known to the masses."

J. S. Weeks, Esq., Town Treasurer, St. Albans, Vt., says in a letter dated May 28: "It works to a charm on my baby's face and head. Cured the head entirely, and has nearly cleaned the face of sores. I have recommend it to several, and Dr. Plant has ordered it for them."

M. M. Chick, Esq., 41 Franklin St., Boston, says: "My little daughter, eighteen months old, has what the doctors call Eczema. We have tried 'most everything, and at last have used CUTICURA, and she is almost a new child, and we feel very happy."

Prickly Heat.

Incidental to the Texan Climate.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—Enclosed please find one dollar for a large box of CUTICURA. The small one that I received some time ago has been very efficacious, especially in Prickly Heat or Rash, as some people call it. I am noising it about. Yours truly, THOMAS W. BUCKLEY.
MASON, Texas, Sept. 22, 1878.

CUTICURA is a most valuable external application. It heals all cuts, bruises, and abrasions of the skin, restores the hair when destroyed by scalp diseases, removes dandruff and keeps the scalp clean and the hair soft and pliable. It is as agreeable as it is effective, and is ably assisted, in every case by the CUTICURA SOAP, which is particularly recommended to mothers for cleansing the skin and scalp of infants and children. It is Toilet as well as Medicinal, and is the most fragrant and refreshing Soap for the nursery and bath of any these prepared.

Parents have our assurance that these remedies contain nothing injurious to the youngest infant, evidence of which may be found in the certificates of Dr. Hayes and Prof. Merrick accompanying each remedy.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of Cuticura, small boxes, 30 cents; large boxes $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Cuticura Soap, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

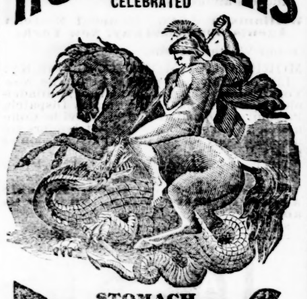
CELEBRATED



STOMACH

BITTERS

Fever and Ague is most common in the spring, but most severe in the fall and winter. It is strictly a malarious disease, and so surely as the Bitters are adopted, so surely will the individual who adopts this precaution be exempted from its pains and penalties. Add to this its value as a stomachic and anti-bilious agent, and who will venture to gainsay its claims to the first place among family medicines.

Wiggs have formed a copartnership under the name of Johnson & Wiggs and will carry on the wholesale and retail grocery business in Mr. Johnson's store, Mr. Wiggs having moved his stock of goods in place. These gentlemen are active and reliable business men. They have a large patronage particularly from Chatham, Wake and Johnston counties.

Justice's Court.

Justice Barbee yesterday had Marshal Williams (colored) before him upon the charge of bastardy. He was put under a bond of $100 for his appearance before the same Justice on the 11th instant.

Pea-p-p-preaching Pea-p-pays.

A speaker at the meeting of the Rappahannock (Va.) Association said he knew a church in North Carolina that had paid its pastor, for a year's preaching, half a bushel of peas; but he says they are the best peas he has ever seen.

The German Last Evening.

One of the most pleasant events of the season came off last evening at the National hotel. A handsome German was given in compliment to Mrs. and Miss Ryan, of Charleston, and a large number of Raleigh's belles and beaux were on hand to participate in the pleasant affair. Everything passed off in the best of style and all enjoyed themselves to a great degree.

Mayor's Court.

His honor, the mayor, yesterday cooped a nymph du pave. She was fined $5 and costs for an offense and failing to fork over the required amount, was turned over to the tender mercies of jailor Bryan. So endeth the first lesson. Billy says he can run the court for three hundred years, if they'll only allow him to pick up all of them that he can find on Wilmington street Saturday nights.

Young Men's Loan Association.

On Thursday evening last several young men of this city met at the second Baptist church for the purpose of organizing a Young Men's Loan Association. The meeting was called to order by W. F. Debnam, who requested W. R. Harris to act as chairman, after which W. R. Harrison, Jr., was elected secretary. Speeches were delivered by several, warmly favoring the movement, after which a constitution and by-laws were adopted.

The officers elected are: William F. Debnam, president; W. R. Harrison, Jr., secretary, and W. R. Harris, cashier.

After a motion to have the proceedings published in the city papers, the Association adjourned to meet next Monday evening at same place.

W. F. DEBNAM, President.
W. R. HARRISON, JR., Sec'y.

W. H. Dodd.

No name in commercial circles in this city stands for more in all that tends to make up a valuable citizen, than the name above written. Mr. Dodd has been actively engaged in business in this city for the past twenty years. He has been successful in all his undertakings. Whatever he took hold of seemed to thrive. Ten years ago he built the immense brick store house which he has occupied ever since as a wholesale grocery and commission establishment. Besides that he is a large holder of improved real estate and is building at the same time an elegant residence on Hillsboro street. With a well established business, ample capital and excellent reputation, it would be difficult to say more in his favor. Those who intrust their business to his care will have no cause for regret.

Trial of Deputy United States Marshal Martin.

The NEWS alluded to this case in yesterday's issue giving some of the facts of the case. The case is about this:

Mr. F. M. Sorrell, as deponent, on the fourth day of September, made oath that he was "credibly informed and believes that Isadore Leopold, in or about the month of August, 1879, did violate the internal revenue laws." In accordance with this United States Commissioner Purnell issued a warrant against the said Leopold for "violation of the internal revenue laws," and placed it in the hands of Deputy United States Marshal Martin. Mr. Martin served the warrant and immediately thereafter Leopold had him arrested for assault and battery; claiming the warrant to be insufficient inasmuch as it did not charge him with having committed any specific offense. The case came up for a hearing before Justice Barbee yesterday morning, and the greater portion of the morning was consumed in examining witnesses and hearing the arguments of counsel pro and con. The Justice decided that the defendant Martin was guilty, and fined him a penny and costs. From this the defendant appealed. Messrs. J. C. L. Harris and Major R. C. Badger represented the State, and the firm of Mason & Devereux the defendant.

Board of Aldermen.

There was a regular meeting of the Board last night, a quorum being present; Mayor Manlo presiding.

Report of the Finance Committee was received and adopted.

Sundry claims against the city were allowed.

The Street Committee submitted a report recommending that a committee be appointed to consider the question of the purchase of a steam engine to be used for the hoisting of stone and pumping the water from the quary. Adopted.

Messrs. Williams & Haywood were appointed to fill all the charity prescriptions at 25 per cent. less than the regular rates for the balance of the year, provided the other druggists will not supply on the same terms; if they will then the prescriptions to be divided among them.

The Clerk was instructed to issue a warrant for $675.00 for the balance of the judgment in favor of Jenks vs. the city.

Aldermen McKee, Green and McAlister were appointed a committee to purchase two horses for the city, and Messrs. R. S. Tucker, R. S. Pullen and W. K. Davis were requested to act with them.

Board adjourned to Tuesday evening next at 8:30 o'clock.

The Templeton Star Alliance Opera Company.

Mr. J. R. Allen, the advance agent for this troupe, is in the city; he bills this well known and popular troupe for Tucker Hall on Friday September 12th. Mr. Allen informed the reporter that they had a large and splendid array of talented actors this season. The "boss," John Templeton, is too well known to the people of Raleigh to require an introduction here.

They will present the new operatic and military pageant, entitled "Prince Napoleon; or the fatal field in Zululand," on the night of the 12th.

This company has always met with a full house in Raleigh and the NEWS bespeaks a large turnout of the lovers of first-class acting on the nights of their appearance here.

Many of our citizens remember what used to be "Little May the Fay." She takes a leading character in this play.

The Norfolk Landmark says:

Miss Alice Vane took the character of Louis Eugene Napoleon, Prince Imperial of France; Mr. John Templeton that of Cracker, a relic of the late war; and Miss Fay Templeton that of The Crow, from the colored Carolinas. With these three popular favorites in leading parts, the audience could but be well pleased with the entertainment. Instead of being a solemn and tragic production as one might infer from the title, it is in some respects a veritable second edition of H. M. S. Pinafore with the difference that it hits the English army instead of the navy. The only tragic occurrence is the murder of the Prince Imperial, which occurs near the close of the third and last act.

Better Stay at Home.

Wilmington Review, 4th.

Some of our people seemed doomed to misfortune. Last evening at Wrightsville Sound, a gangway fell through and four of the unfortunates who were at the Atlantic Hotel in Beaufort during the storm were precipitated into the water getting a thorough ducking.

Rewarded.

Steele & Price, the manufacturers of Dr. Price's Cream Baking powder, are rewarded by their reputation of manufacturing good articles. It is a shameful confession to make that many people are willing to use adulterated articles because of a small reduction in price.

A Card.

All who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, etc., I will send a receipt that will cure you, free of charge. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City.

Leopold has opened Lumden's old stand for a retail cigar palace, where you will obtain the imperial smoker of the season. tf

Mr. F. Grundler is having his cigar store remodeled and will hereafter keep a stock of confectionaries in connection with his tobacco business.

The Remedy.

To escape the worthless abominations offered under the title of Baking Powders, rests wholly with the consumers; they are the ones that have to suffer. Dr. Price's Cream Baking powder is decided by chemists to be the most perfect and wholesome powder made.

It is asserted that the ordinary cosmetics used by ladies are productive of great mischief. We believe this is so, and that a better means of securing a beautiful complexion is to use some blood medicine like Rosadalis, the great Southern Remedy, which cleanses the blood and gives permanent beauty to the skin.

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Cough, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.

BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879.—The following correspondence will explain itself: A. WADDILL, Esq., LYNCHBURG, VA.—Dear Sir: Observing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county, Va., in relation to its efficacy for Liver Diseases, would you have the kindness to inform me whether you used the "Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of a remedy that will afford me even temporary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully,
WILLIAM BARR.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879.—WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the "Liver case" which was effectually cured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me. The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back, breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for various other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WADDILL, Proprietor Lynchburg News.

"Let Them Not be Confounded!"

There is so much said in the papers of the day about the action of the Constitutional Convention of the State of Louisiana just adjourned, that it is but proper to notify, the people, that the State indebtedness in no way affects the management and the plans of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, which, since its incorporation in 1868, has never scaled its scemes or postponed its drawings, but, with strict integrity, has observed its pledges to the public inviolate, and has hence derived a popularity unheard of since the days when General George Washington drew a lottery under the authority of the Continental Congress, to carry on the War for Independence. The next—the 112,—monthly drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery will occur on Tuesday September 9th, and any information can be had on application to M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692 New Orleans, or the same at No. 310 Broadway, New York City.
